The house leaders want to pass the tariff bills as quickly as possible, sond to the senate and then have the house adjourn for periods of three days at a time. Their object in this, it was said, was to have the senate the only body doing business, so that the eyes of the nation could be focused upon it and attention would not be diverted to other subjects.

In the opinion of some house leaders this would enable President Wilson and the democrata in the senate, through their own power and the force of public attention to get such tariff legislation as the democratic platform declared to be
